publisher's policies

.....Advertisements are to be institutional in nature and follow the clean, uncluttered style of the editorial product. This newspaper will not accept ads of a fraudulent, misleading, controversial, or discriminatory nature. Publisher will neither be held liable for failure to publish any advertisements for any reason, nor for claims of libel, unfair trade practices, infringement of trademarks, patents and copyrights or violations of an ad or its content. All orders, artwork, and copy are subject to the approval of the publisher who reserves the right to classify, edit, omit, or reject advertising. Appropriate notice will be given to the advertiser in such case.

..... The advertiser must meet the deadline schedule. Submission of an order is deemed an acceptance of all applicable rates and regulations of the publisher. Publisher reserves the right to revise the rates at any time. Acceptance and approval of final proofs by advertisers or agencies release the publisher from any claims of damages produced by that ad, as does submission of an ad or changes to a hitherto approved ad after the appropriate deadline. Cancellations must be made by the camera ready deadline. Publisher may run a previous ad if changes are not submitted by that deadline. If camera ready art or instructions for ad production are not received by the appropriate deadline, publisher reserves the right to charge for that reserved space. The publisher assumes no liability for errors appearing in advertisements beyond the charge for that exact space in which the error appeared in the first insertion date. No allowance will be made for errors that do not materially affect the value of the advertisement. Claims must be made within 7 days from the date of publication. Political, alcoholic beverage, and tobacco product advertising not accepted.
